Officer comments	Willow visible to side of property between houses on boundary line. Large crack willow within about 8m of property. Becoming large in location. Pollarding is a common management technique for willows, and they usually respond vigorously so no long-term adverse effects are anticipated. Structure of stem compromised so pollarding will allow safe retention.

Objection/ support consideration	The public comment is taken in support, but it is not entirely clear. Certainly they are concerned about the tree. Therefore, as we assess the proposal put to us, we assume that the representation is supportive of work being carried out. The comment and that of the Parish are noted.
