

Biodiversity gain plan

Submit a biodiversity gain plan to show how your development will achieve biodiversity net gain.

When to use this form

A biodiversity gain plan shows how a development will achieve 10% biodiversity net gain (BNG). Submit this form to your local planning authority after they approve your planning application.

Unless your development is exempt, you cannot start the development until the LPA approves your biodiversity gain plan and biodiversity metric calculation tool.

☒ Yes

☐ No

4.2 If no, what earlier date did you agree with the LPA?

[Redacted]

4.3 How have you met the guidance on 'what counts towards your BNG'?

Find out what you can count towards a development's BNG

Some of the biodiversity units claimed are generated by the proposed SuDS and have been included in the Statutory Biodiversity Metric and shown on the post-development habitat plan. These measures are not being used for nutrient neutrality mitigation or another compensation requirement and therefore count in full towards the biodiversity net gain objective. No measures that Defra guidance identifies as counting only in part, or as not counting at all, have been relied upon.

4.4 How will you avoid or minimise impacts to habitats?

Tell us about the steps you've taken on site, including to avoid or minimise the impact on irreplaceable habitats.

The development has been designed in accordance with the mitigation hierarchy, with impacts avoided by locating the padel courts and associated infrastructure predominantly within areas of species-poor modified grassland, hardstanding and previously disturbed ground. The more ecologically valuable boundary habitats, including the western and northern native hedgerows, the southern boundary vegetation, lines of trees and individual mature trees, will be retained and protected during construction.

The veteran oak at the south-western corner of the site, which is treated as an irreplaceable habitat will be retained. Its root protection area, together with those of other retained trees, will be protected by suitable fencing in accordance with the Arboricultural Impact Assessment.

The drainage route has been aligned along an existing path through the scrub to minimise vegetation clearance. Temporarily disturbed grassland will be reinstated and affected scrub edges allowed to regenerate or replanted with native species.
