Hi Rebecca,
Thank you. Yes, I'm making the most of it! I hope you're enjoying yours too.

Thanks for sending the sample panel images.

Having reviewed the information submitted, I think the two bricks work well together, and the slightly different mortar colours are appropriate. The central brick is lighter and more uniform, while the brick to either side is slightly more varied/ grey toned. They are clearly related rather than competing colours. From an urban design and material perspective, I would be comfortable with this pairing.

I hope these comments are helpful.

Kind Regards,
Marta
