Supporting information requirements

Where a development proposal is likely to affect features of biodiversity or geological conservation interest, you will need to submit, with the application, sufficient information and assessments to allow the local planning authority to determine the proposal.

Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 \(as amended\)) would apply?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:

Development site area of 0.2 hectares or below

Are there any priority habitats on or within 500m of your site?:

No

Can you evidence that you carried out a site assessment if the local authority disputes the presence of priority habitats?:

Yes

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:

The site area falls below 0.2 hectares and an Ecological Appraisal has been produced which demonstrates that no priority habitats are impacted by the proposed development. The Ecological Appraisal is attached with this application.

Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Further evidence can be found on Drawing Peewit 02 sheet 2 of 3.

Details of the pre-application advice received

Whilst the Council is not bound by statute to agree with a Planning Inspector's assessment, appeal decisions are significant material considerations that a Local Planning Authority should have regard to when considering development proposals. In this particular case, the Inspector was fairly clear in terms of the sustainability of the location, as well as the acceptability of infilling the spacing provided by the site within Peewit Hill and the manner in which they felt the development would complement the character of the area.

Having regards to these findings, from an officer's perspective and on a without prejudice basis, we would have to take these comments on board when assessing any subsequent planning application and, in my view and as a result, it would be difficult for us to justify maintaining our objection to the principle of the site being developed for residential purposes for the level and form of development that was previously put forward in application F/24/96970.

Obviously, as I said above, that view is on a without prejudice basis to the determination of any subsequent planning application which, as I'm sure you will appreciate, would have to go through the relevant formal process which would include public consultation etc. As with any planning application, there is also the possibility that it may be referred to the planning committee whereby, in such an instance, officers would make a recommendation to members but the final decision would ultimately lie with the committee.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
(b) an elected member
(c) related to a member of staff
(d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
