Retrospective: Regularisation application for works that deviate from approved planning application H/22/93002

Ecology has been consulted on this retrospective application for works that deviate from approved planning application H/22/93002. I have looked at both applications and cannot see any ecological differences in the two proposals. The roof lines, roof lanterns and window shapes may have been altered, but that is all I can determine. Please could you let me know what the specific deviations were? Ecology was not consulted on the first application, but I the photos of the garden clearance show that it was quite drastic and could have produced a net loss of biodiversity on site, contrary to local and national policy.
