The benefits of exercise for students

As a student there are many benefits to having a regular exercise routine! Here are just a few reasons to get active as a student:

Increased mental focus – As a student you need to be mentally switched on for the long days of study and taking in information. Exercise has been shown to increase mental focus and output, helping you to stay sharp! It also nicely breaks up the hours of desk study with some physical activity and movement.
Improved mental health – Moving to another town or city as a student can be challenging. Exercising regularly can have a huge impact on your mental health and help with this transition, even if it's just going for a walk or jog.

Meeting new people – Joining a gym or sports team or joining an exercise class or bootcamp is a great way to socialise and meet new people as you settle into your student lifestyle. This is especially beneficial if you are moving away where you don't know many people.

Balance lifestyle – Student lifestyle is often not optimal for your physical health! Having a regular exercise routine can help you balance the late nights and partying culture.
