Gary,

Just had a look at the revised plans for Mortimers Farm barn A and yes the increased gap between it and the Granary is an improvement but the raising of the ridge does lose some interest in the form but not to an objectionable level. Obviously these revisions will represent a noticeable cost saving to the scheme. No objection.

Tim.

You should have been consulted on X/25/98908 – Mortimers Farm, but I don't seem to have anything from you. Can you double check for me?

I don't think you will have an issue. They are just looking to amend the design of Barn A, reducing its footprint slightly, albeit raising the lower ridge height to match the main ridge. This will pull it away from the listed granary, giving it a little more room.

Gary,

An odd one this - the applicant claims it is a listed building Grade II but I can find no record of this - most unusual, people usually try to avoid it!

More detailed comments attached as usual.

Hope you had a good Easter,

Regards,

Tim.
